Notes:
In the Psalms columns, when only two columns are listed, the left column is the matins reading, and the right column is the vespers reading. When there are six columns of Psalm readings, they are (left to right) matins, first hour, third hour, sixth hour, ninth hour, vespers. I suppose that those indicated timings are not really necessary for a simple non-liturgical reading list, but it would be a good thing to stick as closely to the schedule as possible.
The Gospel readings are from the plan devised by Esteban Vázquez, based on the kelia reading rule for the monastics of Optina, and utilizing his column III arrangement for the Epistles.
From 23 to 31 December, the Gospel and Epistle readings follow those of the Church calendar. This is due to the Optina kelia reading plan running a few days shorter than the full year after four full repetitions.
